1. Introduction

1.1 Purpose

This manual has been prepared in terms of section 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, No. 2 of 2000 (“PAIA”) and section 23 of the Protection of Personal Information Act, No.4 of 2013 (“POPIA”). PAIA was enacted to give effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by public (government) or private (non-government i.e. companies) bodies that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. POPIA was enacted to promote the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies. This manual will enable you to know what procedural and other requirements must be met when requesting access to information as prescribed by PAIA. It is important to note that PAIA recognises certain limitations to the right of access to information, including, but not exclusively, limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy, commercial confidentiality, and effective, efficient and good governance, and in a manner which balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

This manual is intended to foster a culture of transparency and accountability by giving effect to the right to information that is required for the exercise or protection of any right and to actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect their rights

2. The Requester must provide sufficient details to enable us to identify the record and the requester. The Requester should also indicate if he/she wishes to be informed in any manner and state the necessary particulars to be informed.
3. The requester must identify the right that he/she wish to protect or exercise and provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right.
4. If a request is made on behalf of another person, the requester must then submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the satisfaction of the Information Officer.
5. Pay a non-refundable fee of R50.00 + VAT at our offices or request our banking details. If you are an employee or an ex-employee requesting access to your personal information, then you do not have to pay this fee.
6. The Information Officer will assess the request and advise the requester of the decision in writing, no more than 30 calendar days after we receive your request, unless the request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the 30-days is necessitated.
7. Where an extension of the 30-day time limit is required, the Requester must be notified, together with reasons explaining why such an extension is necessary.
8. The information, if granted, will be supplied to the Requester in a format applicable to the request. If declined the Requestor will be notified in writing and will be provided with the reason for the decision.

A Requester who seeks access containing Personal Information about the Requester is not required to pay the request fee. The Information Officer must notify the Requester by notice, requiring the Requester to pay the prescribed fee (if any) before further processing of the request. The Information Officer may withhold a record until the Requester has paid the fee.

A requestor is required to pay the prescribed fees (R50.00) before a request will be processed. If the preparation of the record requested requires more than the prescribed hours (six), a deposit shall be paid (of not more than one third of the access fee which would be payable if the request were granted). A requestor may lodge an application with a court against the tender/payment of the request fee and/or deposit. For a complete fee schedule please visit the South African Human Rights Commission at www.sahrc.co.za.

9. Rights of Access and Refusal

9.1 Your right of access to information

PAIA entitles you to have access to our records, if

- Access is needed to exercise or protect any of your rights.
- You apply for access according to the procedure set out in this manual.
- The Entities do not have grounds for refusing you access.

9.2 Grounds for Refusal

The main grounds for the Entities to refuse a request for information relates to:

- The record would unreasonably disclose Personal Information about a natural person, including a deceased individual (unless that third party or a representative of the deceased gives written permission for access).
- Protection of the commercial information if the record contains:

- trade secrets, or
 - financial, commercial, scientific or technical information, or
 - information disclosed in confidence, which could put the Entity at a disadvantage in a negotiation or commercial competition.
- Access would put us in breach of a duty of confidence which we owe to a third party (unless that third party gives written permission for access).
 - Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property.
 - Protection of the records which could be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings.
 - Request for information that is not legitimate, trivial or nuisance, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

10. Remedies available when an institution refuses a request for information

10.1 Internal Remedies

The Entities does not have internal appeal procedures. Therefore, the decision made by the Information Officer is final. Requesters who are dissatisfied with a decision of the Information Officer will have to exercise external remedies at their disposal.

10.2 External Remedies

The Requester may submit a complaint in writing to the Information Regulator, within 180 days of the decision, alleging that the decision was not in compliance with the provisions of PAIA. The Information Regulator will investigate the complaint and reach a decision - which may include a decision to investigate, to take no further action or to refer the complaint to the Enforcement Committee established in terms of POPIA. The Information Regulator may serve an enforcement notice confirming, amending or setting aside the impugned decision, which must be accompanied by reasons.

The Requester that is dissatisfied with the Information Officers refusal to disclose may, within 30-days of notification of the decision, apply to the Constitutional Court, the High Court or another court of similar status for relief.
